

You know, I believe that our Customers aren't that much different than us when it comes to their expectations - they want a great, quality product, that works, and they want service that says 'we care'!

Our commitment at Elijah Tooling is to exceed your expectations when it comes to what matters most. When we brought the Invert-A-Bolt™ fastener and modular tooling systems to market we had no idea how successful they would be! The only thing we knew was - they were easy to use, simple to understand, and right for people like ourselves - Programmers, Designers, Machinists. What was once a 'mystery piece' has become integral to the lean manufacturing 'puzzle.'

My sincerest desire is that in us you will find a most trust-worthy partner.
